

Consultation on the comprehensive list of hospital medical devices

11 February – 31 March 2025

Overview document

This provides a summary of the full drafted comprehensive list that includes the medical devices currently listed on Pharmac's Hospital Medical Devices List, as well as additional medical devices proposed to be added.

This document will be useful to you if you want to check if the medical devices that are important to you are on this list, without going through a detailed Excel spreadsheet.

About the document

The information is in a searchable PDF format and is sorted by category and includes both the supplier and brand names of the medical devices.

The document is organised by product categories and sets out supplier and brand information for products that are currently contracted or are proposed to be listed as part of the comprehensive list work. It includes:

- Items that are already listed on Pharmac's Hospital Medical Devices List (the Pharmaceutical Schedule) appear in normal text in this report.
- The bold items are those that are proposed to be listed as we have identified usage of them between May 2022 and December 2024.

For more information

The Additional Medical Devices Proposed document also on our website, contains more detail about the items proposed to be listed (including product descriptions and product codes) if you want to see more information than is contained in this summary document.

This information has been provided as part of our consultation on the comprehensive list of hospital medical devices currently used in Health New Zealand hospitals. Consultation is open from 11 February and closes 5pm Monday 31 March. Anyone can provide feedback, and it can be submitted to devices@pharmac.govt.nz.
