Subject: No Surprises update - Trikafta consultation

Kia ora Anna,

This is a no surprises update for Minister Little.

On Sunday 4 December at 6pm, Pharmac is putting out a consultation seeking feedback on a proposal to fund elexacaftor with tezacaftor and ivacaftor (brand name Trikafta) for people aged 6 years and above with cystic fibrosis who meet certain criteria, from 1 April 2023 (subject to Board approval of the proposal).

Pharmac intends to put out a media release (attached to this email) to support this consultation and will share it through our social media channels. Lisa Williams, Director of Operations, will be our spokesperson and be available for media interviews.

To maximise positive, detailed, people-focused coverage of this news, we intend to share it, embargoed, with Paddy Gower (Newshub) as he has covered Trikafta since before an application was even made to Pharmac. As late as yesterday, he was sharing social media posts, asking for Trikafta to be funded.

On Friday 2 December, we will share the consultation and media release, in confidence, with Cystic Fibrosis New Zealand's CE Lisa Burns, as we know they will be approached for comment on the consultation by media. Pharmac staff will also contact the other cystic fibrosis advocates – Trikafta for Kiwis, Ed Lee and Rare Disorders NZ to share the consultation and media release, in confidence.

We will share it more widely with the media and other key stakeholders on Sunday 4 December at midday, embargoed for 6pm that night.

If you require further information about this consultation, please let me know.

Ngā mihi, nā

Pharmac messages to support the Trikafta consultation

Trikafta funding messages

- Te Pātaka Whaioranga – Pharmac has reached a provisional agreement with medicine supplier Vertex to fund Trikafta for people aged 6 years and above with cystic fibrosis who meet certain eligibility criteria.
- Trikafta is the brand name for elexacaftor with tezacaftor and ivacaftor. It is a tablet, taken twice a day.
- We received an application to fund Trikafta in July 2021, and it was added to our options for investment list in October 2021. Just over a year later, we are a step closer to funding it.
- Trikafta has the potential to make a substantial difference to the lives of those people in New Zealand living with cystic fibrosis and for their whānau and communities too.
- Trikafta could give people with cystic fibrosis up to 27 more years at full health, when compared with supportive care.
- Funding Trikafta would significantly reduce the impact of the condition on people with cystic fibrosis, their whānau and communities.
- The evidence is clear that Trikafta can benefit people with cystic fibrosis, so we are to have started consultation on a proposal to fund it.
- Funding of Trikafta is proposed to start 1 April 2023.
- There are more than 360 people in New Zealand who would be eligible for funded treatment under the proposed criteria.

Pharmac budget messages

- The $191 million pharmaceutical budget increase over two years Pharmac received in May is the biggest we've had since we were formed almost 30 years ago.
- The Budget 2022 announcement means Pharmac's budget for treatments is now $1.186 billion and next year will be $1.245 billion.
- We are continuing to work our way through their options for investment list, trying to secure deals for as many items as we can.
- Since 1 July 2022 Pharmac has funded 12 new treatments and widened access to 17 already funded medicines, and there are more to come.

FAQs

What is happening?

Te Pātaka Whaioranga – Pharmac has reached a provisional agreement with medicine supplier Vertex to fund Trikafta for people aged 6 years and above with cystic fibrosis who meet certain eligibility criteria.

Why now? I thought your CE said you wouldn't be able to afford this right now.

All Pharmac staff are motivated to fund as many treatments as we can to achieve the best health outcomes for New Zealanders. We have been working really closely with Vertex, the supplier of Trikafta, to come to an agreement, and are thrilled we have been able what we think is a very good deal.

How much is it going to cost taxpayers?

We can't share the cost that Pharmac is paying for Trikafta. We ask New Zealanders to trust that we were able to negotiate a good, fair price for a treatment that has the potential to make a substantial difference to the lives of those people in New Zealand living with cystic fibrosis and for their whānau and communities too.

What about everything else on your OFI list?

We would love to be able to fund every medicine for every condition but unfortunately that's not realistic. The budget increase we got this year is the largest in our history and has allowed us to fund many more medicines.

We are continuing to work our way through their options for investment list, trying to secure deals for as many items as we can. Since 1 July 2022 Pharmac has funded 12 new treatments and widened access to 17 already funded medicines, and there are more to come.

Why did it take so long?

We received an application to fund Trikafta in July 2021, and it was added to our options for investment list in October 2021. Just over a year later, we are a step closer to funding it. This is historically pretty quick, which is due in large part to the budget increase we received this year which has allowed us to fund 12 new treatments since July this year, and widened access to 17.

Have you just caved to a PR campaign?

Not at all. Pharmaceuticals can spend all they like on PR campaigns, these have no bearing on our decision making. We received an application to fund Trikafta in July 2021, and it was added to our options for investment list in October 2021. Just over a year later, we are a step closer to funding it.

These decisions are based off expert advice, not PR campaigns.

Did the minister give you extra money for Trikafta?

Smile coyly ...You know I can't get into budget discussions with you. You will need to talk with Minister Little.

Politicians don't make decisions on what we fund. These decisions are based off expert advice, not PR campaigns.

Any question about the review

We are in the process of finalising our first progress report since the review which will be made public soon.

General message

All of us at Pharmac have friends and loved ones who have illnesses. Our hearts go out anyone in Aotearoa who is unwell. We wish we could fund every medicine for every condition, but we're doing our best to help as many Kiwis, and treat as many illnesses as possible.

Pharmac seeking feedback on funding Trikafta

Te Pātaka Whaioranga – Pharmac has reached a provisional agreement with medicine supplier Vertex to fund Trikafta.

“Following our budget increase in May 2022 and commercial negotiations with the supplier, Vertex, I am thrilled to announce today that we are initiating consultation on the funding of Trikafta for people aged 6 years and above with cystic fibrosis who meet certain eligibility criteria,” says Pharmac’s director of operations Lisa Williams.

“Trikafta has the potential to make a substantial difference to the lives of those people in New Zealand living with cystic fibrosis and for their whānau and communities too. We estimate that, if funded, Trikafta could give people with cystic fibrosis up to 27 more years at full health, when compared with supportive care. This would significantly reduce the impact of the condition on people with cystic fibrosis, their whānau and communities.

“We have been actively working towards this step in the funding process since receiving recommendations from both our Respiratory Advisory Committee and from our Pharmacology and Therapeutics Advisory Committee (PTAC) that the medicine should be funded. Our expert advisors have told us that treatment with Trikafta significantly improves lung function and other symptoms of cystic fibrosis. The evidence is clear that Trikafta can benefit people with cystic fibrosis, so we are pleased to start consultation on a proposal to fund it.

“I want to acknowledge the time that many people have put into advocating for those living with cystic fibrosis and to those who have shared their own very personal stories with us. We have heard them all, and we know there will be a lot of people thrilled to hear that we are proposing to fund Trikafta.”

The consultation is available on the Pharmac website for anyone wanting to have their say.

“Consultation is a very important step in our process,” says Ms Williams. “It’s how we check that the people who will get the most benefit from the medicines will be able to access them. If approved, we will also be working closely with our colleagues across the health sector to plan for the implementation of Trikafta.”

“We have been saying that we wanted to fund Trikafta – and now we are a step closer,” says Ms Williams.

Funding of Trikafta is proposed to start 1 April 2023.

ENDS

We are welcoming feedback on the proposed funding of Trikafta until 16 January 2023. Please email media@pharmac.govt.nz or call 021863342 if you would like to know more.

Background

Pharmac is proposing to fund elexacaftor with tezacaftor and ivacaftor (brand name Trikafta) for people aged 6 years and above with cystic fibrosis who meet the eligibility criteria. The consultation is being planned for Sunday 4 December 2022.

Advocates have been calling for Trikafta to be funded before we even had an application and have openly criticised Pharmac for not making a funding decision. Many media outlets have covered Trikafta, and much of this coverage has been very negatively slanted against Pharmac, with strong implication of a lack of caring on Pharmac's behalf, and a lack of fairness in the system for those with cystic fibrosis and their whānau.

Due to the wide interest in this funding application, we have shared every milestone along the way:

- <https://pharmac.govt.nz/news-and-resources/news/2022-08-15-media-release-pharmac-shares-update-on-its-assessment-of-trikafta/?page=2>

- <https://pharmac.govt.nz/news-and-resources/news/2021-10-27-media-release-cystic-fibrosis-medicine-added-to-pharmacs-options-for-investment-list/?page=7>
- <https://pharmac.govt.nz/news-and-resources/news/2021-07-09-media-release-application-for-cystic-fibrosis-medicine-received-by-pharmac/?page=8>
- <https://pharmac.govt.nz/news-and-resources/news/cystic-fibrosis-medicine-applications-to-be-considered-by-pharmac-and-medsafe-in-parallel/?page=9>

A year and a half after receiving its application, it is only fitting that we share this milestone too.

Communications approach

The communications team are responsible for internal communication, updating the website, social media and media, as well as advising the Ministry of Health's media team and the Minister of Health's office of the decision. The therapeutic group managers will be responsible for identifying which stakeholders need to be advised, and when, as well as communicating that to them.

Now that the Trikafta consultation is being put out, we have a strong opportunity to reset the discussion around our Pharmac model, gain favourable media coverage around this issue, and gain ground in the discussion around whether Pharmac is equitable/fair. An announcement that progress is being made on Trikafta will be important and meaningful.

We intend the consultation to go out on Sunday 4 December at 6pm.

Wider health sector

Prior to any public communications being issued we will share what we are communicating with the Pharmac Board, the Ministry of Health, Te Whatu Ora, and the Minister's office.

Supplier

We will work with the supplier of Trikafta, Vertex, to align timings and messages.

Stakeholders

There are a few groups/individuals who we know will be particularly interested in this, and who are likely to be contacted by media for interviews.

On Friday 2 December we will share the consultation and media release, in confidence, with the following people:

- Lisa Burns, Cystic Fibrosis New Zealand
- Carmen Shanks and Eddie Porter, Trikafta for Kiwis
- Ed Lee
- Michelle Arrowsmith and Kim McGuinness, Rare Disorders NZ

Also on Friday 2 December we will send an email to other stakeholders (listed below) advising that an update will be being shared on Sunday midday, which will be in confidence until 6pm.

Media

To maximise positive, detailed, people-focused coverage of this news, we intend to share it on the morning of Thursday 1 December with Paddy Gower (Newshub), provided a signed provisional agreement has been received from the supplier by this time. Paddy Gower has covered Trikafta since before an application was even made to Pharmac. He will be given a Sunday 4 December at 6pm embargo for publicly sharing it, but able to talk with the above mentioned stakeholders from Friday 2 December from 3pm.

We will also share it at the same time with Nicole Bremner (TVNZ), Rachel Thomas (Stuff) and Megan Wilson (NZME).

We will share it more widely with (our mailchimp) media on Sunday 4 December at midday, embargoed until 6pm.

When the embargo lifts, we will update our website with the consultation and media release and share both on Facebook, after sending out the mailchimp emails to all relevant consultation groups.

Lisa Williams will be our spokesperson and will be available for pre-records Sunday afternoon and for live interviews Monday 5 December.

Pharmac staff

There will be a lot of interest in this consultation from staff. We will share an update at Board Debrief on Friday 2 December.

proactive release
21 February 2023

Hi everyone,

I hope you're having a lovely weekend.

As I mentioned at Board debrief on Friday, I'm thrilled to announce that we have reached a provisional agreement with medicine supplier Vertex to fund Trikafta. This has been a huge piece of work, and I want to congratulate again everyone who was involved in this work.

From 12 pm today, our media release can be published, so expect to see a few media stories coming out about this. Our communications team will pull together a wrap-up on all these stories and post it on Te Pātaka on Monday.

Ngā mihi,

Sarah

Kia ora,

Please see below for the email (titled Email #1) which needs to go out today to your relevant advisory group (detailed below). @Mako Osborne you might already have something drafted for CAC so feel free to take or leave. Ideally this would be sent later this afternoon (eg some time after 3 pm) but if you need to send it earlier that is fine. Please log these emails in the attached folder once sent.

We will then need to send a follow up email with the details at Sunday midday. I am happy to send these on your behalf, otherwise you can set up an email to automatically go out on Sunday (drafted below as Email #2) with the consultation attached as a PDF. If you choose the latter, your computer needs to be running with outlook open for the email to go. Please let me know what you would rather for Sunday.

Kia ora Kim and Michelle

In follow up to my phone calls with you both, please find attached a confidential copy of our consultation on a proposal to fund elexacaftor with tezacaftor and ivacaftor (brand name Trikafta) for people with cystic fibrosis aged 6 years and above who meet certain eligibility criteria, and our accompanying media release. As discussed, this is confidential until public release at 6 pm Sunday 4 December.

From 6 pm Sunday 4 December, the consultation will be available on the Pharmac website via this link. We would welcome you sharing it with others who may be interested following public release.

Feedback can be sent to consult@pharmac.govt.nz. All feedback received by 5 pm, Monday 16 January 2023 will be considered by Pharmac's Board prior to a decision being made.

Please let me know if you have any questions – I'll be here for the next hour or so or you can call me on my personal number [REDACTED] over the weekend if you would like.

Ngā mihi
Geraldine

Looks good to me, thanks Adelia. Apologies for not coming back on Friday, the day was a bit manic for obvious reasons.

We are putting our media release, embargoed until 6pm tonight at 2pm today. Vertex are doing the same, and so are CFNZ.

Ngā mihi

Hi Jane

Hon Andrew Little

Minister of Health

2 December, 2022 - DRAFT

PĀNUI PĀPĀHO MEDIA STATEMENT

Govt's medicines boost paying off for New Zealanders

Pharmac's plan to fund the cystic fibrosis medicine Trikafta is another example of the Government's boost to the medicines budget helping New Zealanders, says Health Minister Andrew Little.

"Since coming into Government in 2017, we've increased the medicines budget by 43 per cent, letting Pharmac make more than 200 medicines available for thousands of people," Andrew Little said.

"Trikafta is the latest of those medicines. It has the potential to not only greatly improve quality of life for people with cystic fibrosis, but also extend their lives by up to 27 years.

“This is fantastic news for them and for their families, and comes on top of other recent announcements like a plan to fund the spinal muscular atrophy medication Spinraza and a call for proposals for late-stage lung cancer medicines.

“It shows what a difference the Government’s budget boost is making. When we came into Government, the medicines budget – like other parts of the health system – had been starved of investment, despite record population growth.

“We’re fixing that. In 2020, we promised we’d increase Pharmac’s budget by $200 million over four years. We’ve kept that promise, and on top of that put in $71 million more this year, with another $120 million boost is in the pipeline for next year.

“The medicines budget is now 43 per cent bigger, under the Labour Government, than it was when we were elected in 2017. This means better access to medicines and treatments for New Zealanders, helping people lead healthier lives.”

Editor’s notes:

- Today’s announcement by Pharmac is the next step in the process to make Trikafta available for New Zealanders with cystic fibrosis.
- Pharmac has reached a provisional agreement with medicine supplier Vertex to fund Trikafta for people with cystic fibrosis who are aged six and over, and who meet eligibility criteria.
- Funding of Trikafta is proposed to start from 1 April next year.
- Pharmac says the evidence shows treatment with Trikafta significantly improves lung function and other symptoms of cystic fibrosis.
- Trikafta, a tablet taken twice a day, is a combination of elexacaftor, tezacaftor and ivacaftor.
- The Government’s funding boost has allowed Pharmac to make an extra 201 funding decisions since 2017/18, including 68 new listings and the widening of access to 133 treatments, with more to come.
