

Fucithalamic eye drops

Your usual eye drops have a different look

What's happening

The supplier has run out of your usual eye drops because of changes at the manufacturing plant.

It has brought in the fusidic acid eye drops that it sells in Thailand. It is the same product, just labelled for a different country.

Your usual eye drops will be available again next year.

Same medicine, different label

The eye drops your pharmacist has given you will have a different label. Don't worry, they are the same medicine as your usual eye drops.

Your eye drops are made at the same place from the same ingredients. Medsafe has reviewed the eye drops and approved them for sale in New Zealand.
